United States Attorney Deborah R. Gilg and the Federal Bureau of Investigation announce the following information for the attention of the media:

Event Triggering this Release:

Shanon Ray Thomas was sentenced by the Honorable Judge Laurie Smith Camp to life in prison following his conviction for First Degree Murder. He was also sentenced to an additional term of imprisonment of ten years for his conviction for Use of a Firearm During the Commission of a Crime of Violence. Lastly, he was sentence to ten years in prison for being a Felon in Possession of a Firearm. The latter sentence was ordered to run concurrently with the life term imposed pursuant to the First Degree Murder conviction.

On April 18, 2010, at approximately 6:00 a.m. the lifeless body of Dawn L. Starlin was found lying behind her residence on the Santee Sioux Indian reservation. Starlin had been shot five times. Thomas was a former boyfriend of Starlin and confessed to the murder. Thomas admitted that he had experienced recent difficulties with Starlin. The difficulty related to his former relationship with Starlin and his current relationship with another woman. Thomas indicated that the other woman's house and vehicle had been vandalized on April 17, 2010, and he believed Starlin to be responsible. As a result of the vandalism, Thomas admitted to removing a .22 caliber rifle from his bedroom at his sister's residence and placing it at the crime scene.

After leaving the rifle, Thomas and his current girlfriend went to a bar in Niobrara. After closing, they returned to the girlfriend's residence. The girlfriend's residence was close to Starlin's residence. Thomas reported to investigators that Starlin came out of her residence and sat in a chair near her back door. Thomas related that Starlin said "you guys think you're cute," or words to that effect, and he claimed he snapped. He told investigators that he went over to the rifle, picked it up off the ground, and started pulling the trigger. He stated that he was firing the rifle from his hip and did not know how many times he fired the rifle. Thomas admitted that Starlin was seated in a chair when he started shooting at her. After killing Dawn Starlin, Thomas fled the scene, hid the murder weapon, and concealed himself on the reservation.
